Enjoy our hospitality as our guest in Kelheim!

The Archeological Museum located in the Gothic “Herzogkasten” (Ducal Warehouse) is a bridge to the great past of Kelheim and the city from “Spiegelburg” to the present. The museum gives a broad overview of the finds from the Middle Ages up to the 17th century. On the first floor, there is a special exhibit displaying Kelheim’s history. In the museum you may find yourself a part of the Hanseatic League. The courtyard is a 14th century long section of the original wall with the East Gate. It is a part of the “Klosterl” (Walking path from downtown - Klösterl: 30 min.)

The wheat beer brewery on Earth, has made Kelheim known well beyond its borders.

The building was erected in 1663 by the architect Andreas Haberkorn for the Counts of Eberstein. In the middle of the 19th century, it was restored by Carl August Greth. In 1982, the hotel had been restructured completely. The hotel has 24 rooms and 18 beds. It is a member of the Quality Cathedrals Hotels and a member of the "servicequalität deutschland" (service quality Germany). We strive to provide your stay with all the facilities that make your visit special. The hotel is located in the center of Kelheim, at the Danube shipping pier, the center of Kelheim's cultural life.

Old and New City Hall

"Ludwigsplatz" serves as the town plaza. It stretches in an easterly direction from the main intersection to the Old City center. The two main streets form a cross, dividing the city here. The four small corner towers of the gate no longer exist, but part of the city wall still stands. In addition, you can see on your way to the gate a stone monument to the "Armistice of 1918". To the left is the "Gebrauchthaus", a 17th-century building.

We would like to invite you to take a walking tour and visit all our restaurants and shops. Our experienced and knowledgeable city guides are always available to help you during your visit. We invite you to tour the city; all are one of our restaurants and do a little shopping.

Altes und Neues Rathaus (The Old and The New City Hall)

The Old City Hall, also known as the "Befreiungshalle", was completed in 1878. It was designed by the architect Ludwig Förster. The building has a traditional Romanesque style and is made of stone. The Old City Hall was the seat of the city council until 1910. It was then converted into the "Befreiungshalle" in honor of Ludwig I as the builder of the Befreiungshalle. The fountain located near the New City Hall symbolizes the joining of the rivers Danube, Altmühl and the Danube Canal; the Hall is named after the liberator Ludwig I.

The Old City Hall was completed in 1886. The nave was extended and completely renovated in the Neo-Gothic style. After the demolition of St. Mary's Church due to its age and small size, the Church of the Assumption of the Virgin Mary was built in the 15th century in the Gothic style. The church houses the organ museum. Here you can find several painstakingly re-created organs from the 16th to the 19th century. The tour runs 2 hours and 30 minutes. A Walk through the Old City:
